

Drumlummon Views (DV) is published three times a year by Drumlummon Institute, an educational and literary Montana nonprofit corporation that seeks to foster a deeper understanding of the rich culture(s) of Montana and the broader American West.

The editors welcome proposals for essays and reviews on cultural manifestations—including film/video, visual arts, literature, performing arts, scientific inquiry, food, architecture and design—created in Montana and the broader American West. Please send all queries and submissions to info@drumlummon.org.

We are not currently accepting unsolicited fiction, poetry, creative nonfiction, or portfolios of visual art.

Copyright © 2006 Drumlummon Institute

Copyright Statement

Copyright for contributions published in Drumlummon Views is retained by the authors/artists, with publication rights granted to DV. Content is free to users. Any reproduction of original content from Drumlummon Views must a) seek copyright from the authors/artists and b) acknowledge Drumlummon Views as the site of original publication.

Cover Image: Butte—Bar Patron, © 2005 David J. Spear, Strike West Pictures

Drumlummon Views
Drumlummon Institute
402 Dearborn Avenue #3
Helena, MT 59601
406.449.6291
info@drumlummon.org
www.drumlummon.org

DRUMLUMMON Views

THE ONLINE JOURNAL OF MONTANA ARTS & CULTURE

Editor-in-chief: Rick Newby

Art Director: Geoffrey Wyatt

Contributing Editors

Adventure: Randall Green

Architecture & Design/Material Culture: Patty Dean

Archaeology: Tom Foor

Environment & Science: Florence Williams

Folklife: Nicholas Vrooman

Food/Agriculture: Max Milton

Media Arts: Gita Saedi

Nature & Culture: Roger Dunsmore

New Music: Bill Borneman

Poetry: Melissa Kwasny

Theater: Ron Lee

Visual Arts: Gordon McConnell

Roving Arts Correspondent: G. B. Carson

Drumlummon Institute
402 Dearborn Avenue #3
Helena, MT 59601
www.drumlummon.org
info@drumlummon.org
406.449.6291